For your protection, where the highest bid exceeds the second highest bid by more than 10%, the lot will be awarded to the highest bidder at a figure approximately 10% above the second highest bid. In the case of identical bids, that which is received first has preference, so it is in your best interest to submit your bids early. 17. Rights granted to bidders and purchasers under the terms of sale above are personal and may not be assigned or transferred to any other person or entity, whether by operation of law or otherwise. "Purchaser" or "buyer" shall mean the original purchaser of the property from NFAI and not any subsequent owner or other person who may have or acquire an interest therein. Interpretation of this important commemorative medallion has been the subject of considerable controversy in the past. The existence of companion medallions showing a bare-headed Caesar on the obverse and a vicennalian votive inscription on the reverse would seem to suggest that both varieties were distributed in celebration of the twentieth anniversary of Constantine II, from 1 March 336 to 1 March 337. Protocol demanded that the Augustus should also be named in this generous donative. His types, though somewhat vague, may be read as affirming the tie between Augustus and Caesar.
